

To whom it may concern,

I'm pleased to recommend Dávid Horov, a dedicated and reliable professional who used to serve as a React Developer in our team.

David is notable for his substantial level of dedication, consistently getting things done no matter the task at hand. His hard working attitude and steadfast reliability speak volumes about his professional commitment.

In addition to his hardworking nature, David boosts morale with his positive demeanor, contributing to a welcoming and energetic team atmosphere.

Though we had to part ways, I am confident in David's capabilities. His dedication, reliability, and positivity would make him a great fit for any team.

Best Regards,
